“ To Tammie and all of the family, You were so blessed to have a mother like Shirley, and the blessings will remain with you forever. She was a kind, gentle, sweet lady and I knew from visiting with her that she belonged to Jesus. She and I talked often by phone before she moved to Round Rock and she would always remind me that she was praying for me. I am so glad she got to spend the last couple of years close to her family and I know you enjoyed being with her. She is now enjoying the wonders of Heaven and rejoicing with her loved ones that went before. I am praying for you all, and I know that God is comforting you at this time. I rejoice that her grandchildren Tasha, Brandon, and Candace are also my grandchildren. All my love to all the family, Pat Swaner

“ My grandmother was so very loved. She was my go to about anything and everything and she would never judge. I could call her about anything. I can remember all the times she would lecture me on making sure I would put sunscreen on so I wouldn't burn. She would say now Tasha, us redheads burn and you don't want skin cancer. I would always say I know meme, i know. I remember I got upset one time and tried to run away. I packed my red suitcase that said "going to grandmas" on it, left and sat in the alley way. I was gone maybe 5 minutes and I came back crying. She just laughed and gave me a cup of milk. She always pushed milk on all of us. Said it was good for our bones. Something else... She loved Dillard's. She would sent us a gift card every year for birthdays or Christmas. I always loved looking for that Dillard's package in the mail. Always shopping there. She always said when she had a headache she would walk into to Dillard's and it would go away. She called it Dr. Dillard's. Her laugh was one of a kind. Could be heard from anywhere in the house. Her and mom would always bake up a storm for the holidays. Her fudge was amazing. Always made her fudge. She just loved being with family and all of us together and getting along. We were her bear family. All of us. She called me Tasha bear. I will never forget. I will cherish and remember our phone conversations.Wanted nothing but all of us to get along. I miss her so much. It will not be the same without her. I love you meme and you will be forever missed. Love, Tasha
