

Anna Raye Cook

April 8, 1935 - June 27, 2016

Anna Raye Cook, 81, of Lubbock, passed away peacefully in her home on June 27, 2016, having lost the battle to a long term illness.

An informal, come-and-go, celebration of life gathering will be held at the Lubbock County Community Center in Wolfforth, Texas on Sunday July 3 between 2 and 5 PM. Google "Patterson Park". It is the building located on the west side, behind the baseball fields.

Anna was born April 8, 1935 to Weldon and Opal Powell in Cisco, Texas.

She married Bobby Ford Cook on May 13, 1985. She was most recently member of Connect Church.

Loved ones include her husband, Bobby "Curley" Cook; children, Cynthia Cook Barrer, Bobby Claude Cook, Tami Cook Davis and Charles Oliver Cook; 15 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

Preceding her in death were daughter, Karen Cook Anderson, and sisters Arvella Richardson and Betty Gourley.

Better known to her friends and family as Ann, she was lover of Jesus and walked out her faith over the years by doing things such as teaching Sunday school and delivering food to the needy from the church food pantry. She also found great joy in working elections for a number of years, before she fell ill.

In her final years, she enjoyed doing things like going to many movies, drinking coffee and people watching at the local coffee shop, or anything else done by the side of her husband, who was her devoted caretaker for 18 years.

Ann was loved by all who knew her.
