It's truly the end of an era. One memory I have of her that I love is how every week she would bring the mower out to the front yard and you'd see her powering through, no matter the heat. She was always so sweet to me, and I appreciated that. I felt we were joined in mutual love for LeeAnn (and sometimes Denila, lol). I'm sending you all big hugs from way over here in California. I will light a candle tonight in her memory. Love you all. ❤️
