

Diane Faulkner

November 23, 1939 - July 26, 2024

When Diane Faulkner died on July 26, 2024, her kids were surprised that her last words weren't, "Want to play a game?" Other than playing games Diane loved her family and her pets, though perhaps not in that order.

If Diane wasn't playing a game with her family she could be found on her iPad reading, working a jigsaw puzzle or, you guessed it, playing a game. She loved to stay in touch with friends by creating beautiful homemade greeting cards. Her kids will never have to buy a glue stick or a piece of cardstock paper ever again.

Diane enjoyed being a little bit bossy all the way to the end. She told her kids that if they spent a lot of money on her casket she would come back and haunt them so, of course, they bought the most expensive one. Not really.

Diane is survived by her children and their spouses, David Faulkner (Marlena), Cindi Faulkner (Dana Howland), her precious grandson Cooper, and her dogs Sassy and Pebbles along with a cat Charlie who adopted her much to Diane's dismay.

“ When I met Diane, I thought she was the strongest person I knew. She knew what she wanted and she was such a beautiful Christian, P.E.O. sister and fellow card making friend. I will never forget Diane’s involvement in the Mary Martha Circle at SHPC with her friend Johnnie Johnson. I recall Diane wrote her Christian journey in one of our exercises and I will never forget the attention to detail and knowledge from now to her early years. She inspired me to be a better human. I will miss her terribly. Jody Wright

These two were quite the pair! She loved Cooper 1000% and I think he felt the same. They studied together and loved playing games together. I think you can see their love for each other in these pictures.
