“ Dick Cooper was the middle of three brothers, flanked on each side by sisters (I'm one of those). We were raised in a loving Christian home by parents who taught us the value of hard work on the farm and encouraged us to better our lives through education. Dick's life is a perfect reflection of those values.

Dick was a fierce Scrabble competitor with his mother and English teacher sisters, a firecracker bombardier, an irrigation pipe mover extraordinaire! Memories of small town life in Ames, OK abound.

A family man...devoted husband,dad, father-in-law. The greatest Pa to his beloved grandchildren!

*Rest In peace, dear brother,

“ To my life-long friend.

We started first grade about 66-years ago. Graduated high school and were college roommates at OSU. Stayed in touch as we pursued our careers, as we made our families, and we shared stories about our children and grandchildren. After retiring we did quite a bit of exploring in Colorado. We had some great fishing experiences. You were as close as I have had to a brother.

You told me last summer that you were okay with whatever the outcome might be from your cancer...that your only regret was the stress it causes your family. You have always been a selfless man... more concerned about the feelings of others than your own.

It helps me to know that your faith was that strong...that when your final call came you knew where you would be. I have always admired your wisdom and faith in God. You were a heavy influence on my own Christian values since our youth. Your faith in Almighty God never wavered. You were as wise as anyone I know and someone I trusted for advice. You were full of great thoughts, and I will miss our regular extended phone conversations.

How could anyone have had a better friend? I was blessed by our loving God to have you for a friend. I loved you like a brother.

I am praying for comfort for your loved ones, ole buddy, in the precious name of Jesus Christ our Lord. Rest in peace and enjoy your heavenly crown.
