“ What a wonderful man and great doctor! He was my son's pediatrician, and we all wanted him to be OUR doctor, too. My cat had five kittens a month before my son was born. When he was at the crawling stage, I was in the kitchen preparing dinner. One of the kittens had missed the litter box and my son found the results and put a handful in his mouth! I cleaned him up and washed out his mouth as best I could, picked up as much of the mess as I could, and sprayed Glory rug cleaner on the rest for later. Next thing I knew, my son had put the rug cleaner in his mouth. I panicked and called Dr. Holmes, who actually would take phone calls from parents (unheard of now). He let out a big laugh and said my son would be fine but might be foaming at the mouth for a while! So not only was he a wonderful doctor, he had a sense of humor. I am glad to know he had a long and active life after retiring from medical practice.

“ Not only was Dr. Holmes a caring doctor but he was a great boss. I worked for he and Dr. Rankin for about eight years and enjoyed the time and have fond memories of those days. So sorry for your loss.

“ Probably--a story not generally known. My daughter, Dee Anne was born February 27, 1959 at West Texas Hospital. Prior to her birth Dr. Jim Morris, the first cousin of my wife, Joyce, suggested a pediatrician named T. H. Holmes, Jr. From that day forward Dr. Holmes was known to us as T. H. My understanding, confirmed by to me by T. H. approximately ten years ago, was that Dee Anne (Dede) was his first patient upon beginning his practice as a pediatrician. It became a family joke that Dede continued to rely on T. H. far beyond her early childhood days, believe it or not, until she was twenty years of age and left Lubbock to attend the University of Texas. This is not the end of the story.

The kind of Doctor that T. H. exemplified was can be understood by relating the following event which occurred approximately six weeks after Dede's birth. She had been suffering a severe case of colic almost continuously since her birth. One night at a time when all adults and children normally would be asleep Dede , without warning, stopped breathing. T. H. had given me his home telephone number (remember this was many years ago). I frantically called the number. Almost immediately after ringing began T. H. answered and seconds later he was on his way to our home. Contrary to expectation and an intolerable wait for his arrival he seemed to arrive very quickly. He immediately took one look at Dede, then picked her up, held her upside down by her ankles and spanked her gently. She began breathing. T. H. saved her life. She today is a beautiful lady living in Dallas, but only because of a man dedicated to his patients. I know of no greater compliment than to express admiration for a man who saved our family.

“ During his early practice in Ralls, Dr. Holmes delivered my husband, Steve Verett, when he was born in 1953. Our first two children were born in 1982 and 1984, and Dr. Holmes was pediatrician for them and was so kind and supportive to me as a new mom. Our third was born in 1987, the year Dr. Holmes retired, and, I had to find a new pediatrician. He was, however, the best, and no one else could ever do quite as good a job!

We were new in Lubbock in 1971. The first week we were here our three toddlers got stomach flu and I had no doctor, so I took them to the emergency room. Dr. Holmes was on call. At the end of his visit he solemnly told me that we needed our own pediatrician. So I called his office the next time our kids needed help. Eventually we had 6 more children in Lubbock, so he came to know me pretty well. Because funds were tight, I would wait until the current ill child was really sick before I called him. Over the years he gave me such good practical advice about how to handle situations on my own as much as possible. He was willing to give advice on children I had not even brought to the office. One day I asked about a child's dry, chapped hands; then laughingly told him how I had seen my mother use shortening as lotion. He told me that there wasn't much difference between the ingredients of Crisco and Eucerin, and either would bring the same result. What a wonderful man! I have thought of him often through the years and shared many of his suggestions with my children to use with their families.
