

Eleanor Ann Stone

July 10, 1927 - June 8, 2012

Eleanor Ann Stone, 84, of Lubbock, beloved wife, mother, grandmother, sister, and friend to many, transitioned peacefully on June 8, 2012, surrounded in love by her family.

Eleanor was born in Kress, Texas, on July 10, 1927, and grew up in Hale Center with her mother Louella Moon Henkel. Her father, George Henkel, passed away in 1937 in an automobile accident. Eleanor was a graduate of Hale Center High School and Holmes Business School. She worked for 25 years for the Veterans Administration and General Services Administration, retiring to raise her family in 1961.

Eleanor was active in civic affairs, serving in the American Business Women's Association and the Lubbock Women's Study Club. She and husband Stony were long time members of Second Baptist Church of Lubbock, where both were greeters and ushers for numerous years.

She is survived by husband, Lawrence "Stony" Stone. They were married in 1950 and their marriage served as an inspiration to many others. Eleanor is also survived by son, Gary and his wife Phyllis of Plano; and by her granddaughter, Nicole of Fort Worth. She was preceded in death by sisters, Helen Henkel of Lubbock, Louise Tipton of Lubbock, Ruth Ella Henkel, and by brothers, Bill Henkel of Midland and Henry Henkel.

Services are being coordinated by Sanders Funeral Home of Lubbock. Viewing for family and friends will be Sunday, June 10, 2012 from 5:00 – 6:30 p.m. at Sanders Funeral Home. Burial will be at Resthaven Cemetery, Monday, followed by a memorial service at 1:30 p.m. at Second Baptist Church in Lubbock.

The family requests that consideration of gifts in Eleanor's memory be given to the South Plains Food Bank and Cal Farley's Boys Ranch.
