“ Granny Peanut was a truly special person in my life. As a teenager, crazy about her granddaughter (and still am), she welcomed me into the family with open, loving arms. She always had an ice cream sandwich waiting for me, and that small gesture meant the world.

Though it saddens me that you are no longer with us, I find comfort and joy in knowing you are now free from the illness that affected your memory. I imagine you are rejoicing in peace.

Until we meet again, Gran. I can't wait to share an ice cream sandwich with you once more.

“Granny Peanut, we love you so very much!
Even though you just passed, it feels like we've lost you for a second time since your diagnosis 12 years ago with dementia that later developed into alzheimer's. It was heartbreaking to see your memories of all your family members and friends fade away. BUT, we are rejoicing with you now that your mind has been made whole again! We have peace within knowing that you are once again reunited with Buck, Zane Justin, your sisters, brothers and Momma and Papa Garrett, who had long since passed. They're catching you up on everything you've missed!! I can only imagine how sweet and wonderful those conversations are!!
Watch over us from time to time, our Angel. Until we meet again.
With much Love,
Your April ~
