Hayden has had numerous health problems over the years, had fought hard to win the battles, however, this last one proved to be too much for him. The family would like to thank everyone at University Medical Center, Heritage Oaks Rehabilitation and Covenant Specialty Hospital for the care and concern shown to him over the past couple of months. He loved all of his nurses, aides and the staff and was so grateful for their help and compassion.

He was one of the first satellite TV salesmen in the Lubbock area, an avid sailor, had a restaurant in Idaho, and a nightclub in Borger, Texas. What he loved most, other than family, was music, particularly Country music. He was a gifted guitarist, bassist and singer, as well as writing and composing his own material. He played with many area musicians, most recently with Sammy Naylor, Jody McNitt and Carl Ayers. Hayden enjoyed playing every chance he got.

To the entire Hegdal family (and by extension, all relations through marriage): I was fortunate to have met Hayden many years ago, and like a bad penny, I would turn up every now-and-then to see him as he progressed along life's journey with his pal Weldon. I had been looking forward to another visit in March, and had called to make plans when I was given the sad news. I always looked forward to our visits, when he would tell stories from the past that both entertained and educated me. His abilities in the musical realm were legendary, and his songs made both old and young want to get up on the dance floor. He will be sorely missed! Anne and I hope you keep his memories fresh by staying close to one another and sharing your stories often. The memorial service was exactly what he would have had, if he had planned it himself! Rest In Peace, Hayden

We know how hard it is to lose a loved one but he will still be with you through memories and good times ya'll had shared through the years with your Dad. I wish we would have known him better, we saw him on special occasions while visiting with your cousins, Jan and Sam Spikes. Our prayers are with you all during this time of sadness. May the Lord watch over you today and always.

Uncle Hayden was a one-of-kind man. I have many happy memories of him serenading Jacque and I with his songs. He was definitely an entertainer! He was also an intelligent man who could carry on a lively debate about any subject with anyone. Sam and I will miss him. Oh yes, he was very, very lucky to have three caring daughters who obviously adored him. We love yaw'll.

This has been a sad week for me, as I learned of Natalie's loss a couple days ago and then learned of the passing of Gloria Gale, a close friend, only after her funeral. I now really want to attend the memorial because of becoming friends with Natalie on Hayden's side, and of Gloria's children. It is the least I can do. I k
