“ My dad was an attorney with Harley for most of my life, and when I was little there was just no one cooler and prettier in my eyes than Heather and Holly. I remember being very young and Heather letting my sister and I play with her Barbie perfume maker and I remember wanting a bed like hers. Later in Junior High I remember her advising me to vote for the cheerleaders who had talent and worked hard and not look only at popularity. Heather, thank you for being kind to everyone you met - even pesky little kids like me at the time; and to the Huff family and her loved ones, please accept our deepest condolences for your heavy loss.

“ Many years ago, Heather was visiting her grandparents in Carlsbad during the Christmas Holidays. Heather and Holly were believers in Santa Claus. One day my friend Gary dressed up in a Santa costume and climbed on their grandparents' roof and through the chimney started calling for Heather and Holly by name. He asked if they had been good and what they wanted for Christmas. I will never forget the look on Heather face when she talked to Santa Claus through the chimney. Heather always had a great sense of humor and we will always remember her laugh and contagious smile. Heather, you will be greatly missed by your family and friends. Love you. “ I have so many memories of Heather, it is hard to choose just one. Heather was my older, cooler cousin. I idolized her and Holly. They were so cool and so pretty and introduced me to so much good music. Every summer we would visit our grandparents and Heather would make time spend with Sean and me. I remember she took us to see The Jetsons movie. We drove in her red Volkswagen Cabriolet, (coolest car EVER), with the top down. She got us Fun Dip and watched the movie, having so much fun. We came out to find it had rained, poured really, and her top was down! Heather just laughed and we went on having fun, wet seats and all. I would always get so excited when I heard the garage door go up at Aunt Linda's house because it meant Heather had arrived and we got to spend time with our radiant, fun, and hilarious cousin. I remember going shoe shopping with her and she always got the best deals because she only wore a 5.5, whereas my 7.5 was also sold out. Our Grandma used to razz Heather, telling her she had the ugliest shoes (they were the coolest, hippest shoes!). It felt like such an honor when our Grandma gave me the same compliment and I joined the Ugly Shoe Club with Heather. Heather was a free spirit, she was so open and accepting, so loving and kind. She shared stories of campfires on the beach in California, when she lived with our cousin Amy, and dancing under the stars with waves crashing in the night. She came to Albuquerque to celebrate my brother's birthday with him because they had a special bond and he was/is the ONLY boy cousin. She made time for the people she loved and made you feel special. The last time I spoke to Heather was about a month ago. We talked about life, her puppies, and Emily. Heather was so proud of Emily and loved being her momma. I wish you were still here with us, it breaks my heart that you are not. And, I am glad you gave us all the gift of Emily because that means we still have a piece of you. You will be forever missed and forever loved. I hope Sadie, Cinnamon, Murphy, Willie, Gracie, Elvis, Tony-Bologna, all the other fur babies I am forgetting, are by your side. I hope you are surrounded by love and continue to shine a light on us from above. I wish you were here still, but I am so damn proud you were my cousin and for the lifetime of memories we shared. I feel fortunate that the last thing we said to each other was, "Love you." I love you cousin.

“ Heather will be missed by her family and friends. My memory includes going to the amusement park when Emily was just about a year old. We gave Emily her first cotton candy that night. Heather always referred to it as “Cotton Candygate” because we got into trouble for giving Emily sugar. We have laughed about it ever since.
