“ *My earliest memory of Maxine , she and I gathering wildflowers on the prairie west of the Weatherly house. I was 5 or six and Maxine was 4 years younger. I not sure mother knew we were that far from home,
Maxine started school in 1936 and our oldest sister Kathleen graduated high school that same year. Maxine and I played together and then went to school together also.
We had close family ties and got together with our other sister many times over the years.
In later years there were phone conversations every week. since Maxines husband passed away the phone calls were daily. I will miss those daily phone calls!

“ Memories of Aunt Maxine

- Aunt Maxine has always been my role model. She was only 12 years older than me.
- When I was 5, she lived in the second floor apartment of Dover's home, right next to our house. She had a job at Safeway's as a cashier.
- When I was 8 years old, she and my mom went to Beauty School in Albuquerque. They even double-dated.
- When I was 9 years old, I remember Aunt Maxine taking me on one of her dates. I don't remember where we went, but I so remember their good night kisses. I remember sitting in the back seat, trying not to look.
- The day Aunt Maxine and Uncle Frank married, we got up early to set up our living room for their reception.
- The summer after she and Uncle Frank married and had moved to Torrance, California, she had me for a 2 week visit in their new home. I also visited again 2 years later.
- I always marvelled at how crafty Aunt Maxine was. She was always coming up with new craft ideas. She was also a great seamstress, sewing many outfits for herself and Debra. She always had a great sense of fashion.
- We really started reconnecting again after she and Uncle Frank moved to Lubbock. We would always stop for a night on our way home from Phoenix. She was always a gracious hostess and fixed great meals.
- When she broke her shoulder, I felt very honored that she let me come to keep care of her. We shared a lot of laughs and good conversation.
- I admired how she managed her cancer and other ailments. She always had a realistic and positive attitude.
- For several years we have had monthly phone calls, which I will miss very much.
