“ Jack McQueen was not only a successful business owner, but an even greater success as a Father, Husband, Grandfather and just a great human being. I was friends with one of his daughters and got to be around him at an early age. I just remember that he always was doing something for someone and his children have followed his lead. How lucky his family is to have lived their lives surrounded by his love and knowledge.

Lots of funny memories, because of this kind man, your Father.

Thank you for sharing him!
