“ In the short time we were blessed with Jean Ann’s company, she brought life and laughter to our home. She loved to be in the sunshine, and was always up for a rousing conversation. She was quick to include all around her in lively discourse, telling stories of her youth and experiences. She encouraged others to share their memories as well. She was a wonderful conversationalist as well as a great listener and encourager. She brought joy to all whose path crossed hers. She is missed terribly, and remembered lovingly.
