“ After our parents died, Tio used to come every week usually on Saturday and pick us up, me, Sylvia, Ruben and sometimes Jimmy, as well as our nephew Chris and take us to the store where he would let us buy a coke and some chips. Then he would take us to visit the cousins. He wanted to still be in touch with the family. He did this until we got older and started having activities. I am so grateful for that time.
Heaven has gained a beautiful soul.

“ We always knew how special he was to us, but to hear all the nice stories, that we never knew, from other family members, well that just goes to show, how right we all were. 💔😭

“ Tio Juanito was a good friend when we were growing up, a big brother. He was always there for us. We worked together in the fields, cotton picking. My goal was to beat him but never could. He never let me. LOL but I beat everyone else. When I didn't have a ride to the movies he would always show up ready to take us anywhere we wanted to go. he taught me how to drive, patiently, never yelled at me like everyone else that tried. I was always trying to hook him up with my friends but he was very picky and did not go for any of them (too short, too loud, too young, etc.) I mentioned alot of my memories with him when I visited him in lubbock. He would smile big and nod his head in agreement. He was blessed with a good memory to the end - even corrected me sometimes. Rest in peace, my Uncle, big brother, best friend. You are forever in my heart.

“ John (Juanito) known to anyone that loved hin, which were many. Always the supporter of anyone mostly young but sometimes old. He made it his lifes mission to be available to anyone that needed his assistance..whether it was financial, a place to stay, a car to borrow, or a job. In the 70s uo until 1989 he was instrumental in hiring almost any male family member at Panhandle Construction co. to include Danny, Manuel, Hot Louie, David, Adam. Nephews and brothers fathers and sons.

Never a sweeter guy have I known. He's my uncle, my father, my friend. I'm gonna miss my visits, but I'm encouraged in knowing that he is now with his original family and we are indebted to him for making us all his family.

I love you Juanito, and we'll enjoy a beer again.
