“ Dear Bob and family, our hearts broke into another piece upon hearing about the death of your beloved wife, mother, and friend. The love and memories left behind will remain forever within your hearts and thoughts. Plato said that for every life there is assigned a specific star in the heavens. May God fill you with the strength and peace required for the journey of grief that we ourselves have known. Deb & Dave Tainsh, Panama City Beach, Fla.

We are praying for all of you for God to give you strength and peace as you begin this journey. Grief is never an easy task, but God can bring hope and joy in the darkest times that we will see our loved ones again one day. “ My dearest momma. My best friend. You are the best mom and friend a person can have. I have learned so much from you and as I said before, I just wish I could be half of the woman you were. You brought so much happiness into the lives of me, Chris and Alex and Bob and all of your grandkids. All of the unpredictable trips we used to take and the things we used to do will leave a lasting memory in my heart and will be shared with your grandkids. I will be sure they remember you just as I do. I will and do now miss you so much. Not saying goodbye, just cya in the next life. Enjoy those dances with your Daddy. You deserve them. I LOVE YOU!!!

“ Mom, my biggest supporter and fan. I love you and miss you more than you could ever imagine. I am sorry for all of the pain and troubles but they are now over. You have been reunited with Grandma, Grandpa, and uncle Alan. I know you have baby girl in your arms and you are watching over all of us. The grand kids miss you and ask about you. This is hard to explain to them on a level they understand. They love you very much as we all do. Just watch over is and guide us. You will never be forgotten and my kids will know their grandma. I love you and miss you and cannot wait to see you again. Love Chris.
