Its a terrible tragedy. As a Lubbock native and being familiar with Southcrest Ministries,it appears that this young man had a good life,a bright future and a good family. Something was wrong somewhere. Something that no one around him saw...his family,friends or church. The answer as to why? may never be known. As someone who works as a security officer on a college campus,Im disgusted by the negative comments made about the Liberty University security officer. A thorough investigation was conducted by the state of Virginia and they ruled that he acted in self defense. While the why may never be known and nobody wants to add any pain to the Hathaway family,it is clear from testimony,forensic evidence and investigation findings that Joshua Hathaway,for reasons that may never be fully known,launched a surprise,violent,sustained physical assault on the Liberty University security guard. and that this man(the guard)was in a fight for his life against a physically superior individual. He likely would have been killed or seriously injured had he not stopped this assault with his weapon. It has to be accepted that Joshua Hathaway had some serious problems in his life prior to ever arriving at Liberty that people around him in Lubbock failed to see. Having said that,Im still sorry that he passed away,but the security guard did what he had to do and acted properly
