I'm sorry to learn about the passing of Linda and her son Doug. The last time I saw Linda was in 1994. But I spent many years knowing her well thru the decade of the 1980's and early 90's. We had somewhat of a tumultuous relationship, and some of the blame for that rests on me. There were good times and bad times. If I could speak to her now, I would tell her that I was sorry for my part in the rough patches of our relationship, and now looking thru the wisdom of time and middle age, I would have done things a lot different if I had it to do all over again. I know how the family feels. A loved one missing. I've lost my grandparents, and my own mother died of cancer in 2020. I wish nothing but eternal joy, peace and rest for Linda with the Lord, and my heart is filled with nothing but grace for her and her family
