“ My husband handled Dollie's trust back in the late 60's, and one day he brought her to the house to meet the family. She has been my friend ever since. She used to drive herself to Snyder to visit me after my husband died and would stay overnight. The most remarkable thing about Dollie was her sweet disposition. Despite the handicaps that her cerebral palsy caused, she was always happy. She never felt sorry for herself, and she welcomed my visits and never complained when they were short or spaced far apart. I will miss her, but I am so happy that she is completely healed and with Jesus!
