“ To a great man and friend. I will miss our political views and our FB talks. I say to you my friend spread your wings and stand tall for the " The Great I Am" Will care for you and protect your family. There is no order or words I can say other then we all have a turn in life and may you sit on the right side and watch over your family and friends this is not a goodbye but a hello and will see you there when my time has come. We did not lose a friend but gained an Angel. Love of friendship forever and forever I will be.
