“ Our prayers to Brenda and the Jackson Family. We were a stopping point for the Texas Vietnam Veterans Memorial Highway Motorcycle Ride on Highway 83. We have wonderful memories and lots of photographs of those dedicated riders who came with Brent and Brenda to honor those veterans. May God's love be a comfort to the family during this time. “ Thoughts and prayers for the family of this wonderful man. Our family met Brent and his family while we were driving school busses several years ago. I remember going over to their house and them having a pet snake. All our kids would hold it but they could not do anything to make me want to hold that thing. RIP Sir Jackson.

“ My wife Jewel and I first met Brent in Perryton in 2004 for the TVVMHMR. He treated me like I was a real brother from the word go. We made a bond and a brotherhood that forged my life to a better place. I was a youngster in this group of distinguished Vietnam veterans. He kept giving me jobs for the run and putting full trust in me on each of them. He never lost faith in me. We loved coming down and spending time and hanging out, going and listening to his band play and sing. He was and will always be one of the brightest rays of sunshine to have ever walked this earth. You will be greatly missed my brother. We love ya. Make sure to burn some rubber off your motorcycle tire on them streets of gold.

“ I first met Brent through my husband Gary is 2010. He and his wife Brenda welcomed me and my children into Gary's ;life with open arms and hearts. He had never met my three boys, and had a present for each of them that meant something to him the first time he met them. I loved his smile, his wicked sense of humor and his huge heart.

We got to see Brent in November this year. He told me he wouldnt be with us long, and it broke my heart. I am so glad I got to see him one last time, and get one last warm hug.

We have a cd of music that Brent and his band recorded in our car, we often play it. When i hear "Amarillo by Morning" you jump into my mind Brent.

Love to Brenda and all your family. Heaven has a new angel with a massive heart.
