

Sallie Mae Jackson Hayes

May 18, 1929 - February 21, 2016

Sallie Mae Jackson Hayes was born in Indiana on May 18, 1929 to the late John M. Jackson and Florence Ricketts Jackson. On Sunday, February 21, 2016, Jesus took her hand and lead her to her eternal home. She joined grandson, Keith Hayes, brothers Johnny and Donnie Jackson, son-in-law Kevin Moushon, and numerous family and friends in eternity.

Sallie graduated from nursing school at Arkansas Baptist Hospital in 1950. She married Theodore T. Hayes on December 20, 1950, in Vinita, Oklahoma. She loved her family, serving others, and, most of all, studying about and worshipping her Lord and Savior. She is now sitting at the feet of Jesus, praising God and enjoying heavenly music.

She leaves behind her husband, Ted; daughter, Brenda Hayes, of Lubbock; daughter, Connie and Budd Jones of Montgomery, Alabama, and their children David and Sara Jones, and Janice and Josh Simons; son, Ted and Theda of Bevercreek, Ohio, and their children Ray and Tami Hayes, and Ruth Hayes; son, Tom and Claire Hayes of Coquitlam, BC, Canada, and their children, Kristin and Stephen Swift, Andrew Hayes, Shannon Hayes, and Bryan Hayes; son, Tim and Clarissa Hayes, of Lubbock, and their daughter, Hope; daughter, Ann Moushon, of Lubbock, and her son, Jackson Moushon; great granddaughters Maggie, Katie, and Sammie Jones, and Miriam Hayes; brothers, Ronnie and Mary Jackson of Anderson, South Carolina; Grady and Linda Jackson of Brevard, North Carolina, and Danny and Marian Jackson of Anderson, South Carolina; numerous nieces, nephews, and extended family.

A celebration service will be held Sunday, March 6, 2016, 2:15 p.m., at Redbud Baptist Church, 801 Slide Road.

Instead of gifts, flowers, or cards, the family asks that you consider sending a living memorial in Sallie's name to Awe Star to support her grandson, Jackson, on his summer mission trip to Suriname (www.awestar.org; Awe Star Ministries, P. O. Box 470265, Tulsa, OK 74147; Missionary #308406).
