“ My first Eucharistic ministry visit with Teresa will remain memorable. I was new to the ministry and was assigned to visit Teresa while she was doing some rehabilitation at Crown Point. Upon entering her room, I nervously introduced myself and told her I was here to bring Her Holy Communion. She welcomed me in and motioned for me to sit down; and then felt very much at ease. She commented that it was a beautiful day as she gazed out the window to the shrubs. I agreed and asked what she was looking forward to that day. She looked at me, smiled and pointed to the pix containing the Holy Eucharist in my hand. Teresa was looking forward to receiving our Lord in the Holy Eucharist.

As we began our prayers and she received the Holy Eucharistic, the nervousness of being a Eucharistic minister to the sick disappeared. I realized it was a blessing to those that receive and the minister themselves. Subsequent visits over the months that followed were as personally rewarding. Teresa always had a smile and a story to share about her daughters, Holy Spirit parish and/or her brother Msgr. Gene. I often wondered who was ministering to whom. She always thanked me for coming and added her friendly farewell, “good to see you”, when I left. May God bless her on her journey home. Please accept my condolences.
