“ I never eat a green pepper that I don't think of Tim. When I was 5 or 6, I was staying with he & Kay and wanted to pull peppers from the garden. Tim directed me to a specific pepper and assured me I could eat it because it was a bell pepper. I was so excited Little did I know that it was planted too close to the jalapeno plants that he was starving the water off to make them hotter. Needless to say, I have never since had a bell pepper that hot.

I don't remember Tim's face without that twinkle in his eyes. My favorite memories growing up involve being at he & Kay's house in garden, playing in the dirt, swinging in the tire swing, cooking, playing dress up, and running around with the dogs. Such a loving home to be in with great family! Tim always made me smile and gave the best hugs.
