“ He also had 2 beautiful children and grandchildren that live in Oklahoma where he lived for years ... to whom my concern they buried my dad without permission from his own children that they didn't mention or did they invite to funeral what type of Christian people does that . Only who that keeps all his belongings that he had given to his children, but did not receive.

“ The last time I came to the hospital when Mickey was awake I did not even get in the door and I heard the familiar "Hey Cuz," we referred to each other as cousins and took lot of pride in that. I grew up with Mickey, we put together many a model car. We would get the TV trays out and go to work on the models, nearly always a Chevy. Mickey is where my love for old cars came from. "What year is this one Mickey?" He replied, "59 Chevy Impala, Tim the tail fins meet in the middle, on the 1960 model the fins do not meet in the middle, the only difference!" I could go on and on... Mickey had a loving spirit, a love for life and I do not remember Mickey ever having something bad to say about others. Cuz, I will miss you more than you know and it will be easy to remember you ever time I see an old Chevy on the road.

I love you, see ya Cuz.

“ Mickey was such a kind and caring person. he was so nice to my mother and would see about her at Golden Plains. He was across the hall from her and she always enjoyed his visits and they would share country and western music cd's. He served as a pallbearer at her funeral. Mickey did know the cars of the 50's and 60's. He had a love for caps and shirts. Mickey will be truly missed by many “ Mickey was true to all. He never knew a stranger and saw no reason not to speak with any and all he came into contact with. He could talk anyone into everything. His love and knowledge of cars could not be matched. His hobbies of craftgs and WII Bowling was so special. When I last saw him this past Thanksgiving he talked with me to look for craft ideas to compliment his rocking chairs made out of clothespins. He sat by me as I searched the internet. He told me "go up", "go back" and "go down". I was impressed that this was something he knew as computers really weren't part of his experience. He will be truly missed by all of his families and friends.

“ Mickey's sweet nature, terrific smile and wonderful laugh will be missed. I will forever think of bicycles, trucks and caps when I remember you! My very favorite memory is from this past Christmas as you and I painted Christmas Cookies....Oh what laughs we had painting snowmen and reindeer. That was better than eating them.
